The word “Acupuncture” means (Acu = Needle) and (Punge = Pricking). Acupuncture is done by inserting fine needles at specific points in the body to treat various diseases or for positive promotion of health. Acupressure is a therapeutic technique that involves application of manual pressure to specific points on the body using fingers, hands, elbows, or specialized tools to stimulate the points. Both acupuncture and acupressure are rooted in TCM (Traditional Chinese Medicine) and has been practiced for over 2,000 years.

Acupuncture Therapy in Nepal - Natural Healing for Pain, Stress & Energy Balance

Holistic Acupuncture Treatment at Institute of Natural Medicine, Nepal

At the Institute of Natural Medicine in Nepal, our Acupuncture Therapy offers a safe, natural, and time-tested way to relieve pain, reduce stress, and restore the body's natural energy balance. The word "Acupuncture" comes from Latin roots: Acu meaning "needle" and Pungere meaning "to prick." This ancient healing method works by inserting ultra-fine, sterile needles into specific points on the body known as acupoints, which help to restore the smooth flow of Qi (vital energy).

According to Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM), illness or discomfort occurs when the flow of Qi becomes blocked or unbalanced. By stimulating precise points along energy meridians, acupuncture encourages natural healing, improves circulation, and supports the body's internal harmony.

Our experienced practitioner, Dr. Dharma Raj Karki \(BNYS\), combines modern scientific understanding with ancient wisdom to ensure safe, personalized treatments for each client.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is acupuncture and how does it work?

Acupuncture is a natural healing therapy that uses thin, sterile needles to stimulate specific points on the body. It helps balance the flow of energy (Qi), improves circulation, reduces pain, and promotes overall wellness.

Is acupuncture safe for everyone?

Yes. When performed by a certified practitioner at the Institute of Natural Medicine in Thamel, acupuncture is safe, hygienic, and effective for people of all ages.

Does acupuncture hurt?

Most clients feel only a slight tingling or warmth when the needles are inserted. The sensation is minimal and many find the treatment deeply relaxing.

How many acupuncture sessions do I need?

The number of Acupuncture sessions depends on your condition. Some clients experience relief after one or two treatments, while chronic issues may require several sessions for lasting improvement.

What conditions can acupuncture help with?

Acupuncture is effective for pain relief, stress, anxiety, insomnia, digestive disorders, menstrual cramps, arthritis, migraines, and many other chronic and lifestyle-related conditions.

How long does each acupuncture session last?

Acupuncture Sessions typically last 30 to 60 minutes, depending on your health condition and treatment plan.

Who performs acupuncture at your center in Thamel?

All acupuncture treatments are performed by Dr. Dharma Raj Karki (BNYS), a certified naturopath and acupuncture expert with years of clinical experience.

Can I combine acupuncture with other natural therapies?

Absolutely. Many guests combine acupuncture with Massage Therapy, Yoga, Sound Healing, or Reiki Healing at our center in Kathmandu for deeper and faster healing results.

Is acupuncture good for stress and anxiety relief?

Yes. Acupuncture helps calm the nervous system, balance hormones, and release natural endorphins — reducing anxiety, depression, and stress naturally.

How is acupuncture different from acupressure?

Acupuncture uses fine needles to stimulate points, while acupressure uses gentle manual pressure with fingers or tools. Both are based on Traditional Chinese Medicine and aim to balance energy flow.

Do you offer acupuncture for back pain or sciatica in Kathmandu?

Yes, our acupuncture therapy in Thamel is highly effective for relieving back pain, sciatica, and neck or shoulder stiffness by improving blood flow and reducing inflammation.

Can acupuncture help with sleep problems or insomnia?

Definitely. Acupuncture improves sleep quality by relaxing the mind, reducing stress, and balancing internal energy. Many clients report better sleep after just a few sessions.

How much does acupuncture cost in Kathmandu?

At our center, acupuncture sessions start at USD 15 for 30 minutes and USD 25 for 60 minutes, depending on your condition and treatment duration.

Is acupuncture effective for digestive problems like IBS or constipation?

Institute of Natural Medicine

Yes. Acupuncture can regulate the digestive system and relieve symptoms of IBS, constipation, and bloating by harmonizing the body's internal energy flow.

Where can I get the best acupuncture therapy in Thamel, Kathmandu?

You can visit the Institute of Natural Medicine in Thamel — one of the most trusted holistic healing centers in Nepal offering acupuncture, yoga, massage, and naturopathy under expert care.
